IN MEMORIAM

It is with a deep feeling of sorrow that the class of nineteen hundred and forty-one records the death of Miss Ella C. Ritchie, not only as the beloved college librarian, to whose unlimited patience in helping every searching student we offer tribute, but long a true friend.

A TRIBUTE

TO PRESIDENT MARTIN F. O'CONNOR

THE UNTIRING AND ENTHUSIASTIC LEADERSHIP AND TRUE FRIENDLINESS OF PRESIDENT O'CONNOR WILL FOREVER BE A PART OF OUR MEMORIES OF

Foreword

As with every class, the realization that we have completed our work at Framingham suddenly comes upon us, even as though that had not been our goal from the start. Familiar spots and traditions become doubly dear when we are about to leave them for our individual careers.

We have endeavored to make our yearbook a record as complete as possible, so that in the years that follow we may renew our pride in the Class of 1941 by looking through the pages.

The ever increasing bond between the college and the alumnae helps us to feel that we may always be a part of Framingham.

Our College on the Hill

As an ever present reminder of the happy days spent on our beautiful campus, we present views of a few of the lovelier places.

May Hall with its ivy-clad towers; Crocker Hall showing a new brick face and new shrubbery; Horace Mann and its sweeping terrace and lawn; Dwight Hall, our newest addition, heading the circle drive; the Gatepost walk and the ivy-covered boulder; each spot brings special memories.

1. Change partners. 2. Sixth coming up. 3. Well here we are. 4. Intermission. 5. Everybody happy? 6. May I present—

JUNIORS

1. Pals. 2. Queen of the May. 3. And now we are three. 4. Sittin' pretty. 5. Glamour a-plenty. 6. Jolly juniors. 7. And so to bed. 8. Parade of beauty. 9. The great lovers. 10. Gee—hello.

The Juniors

With but a single year ahead in which to make those final preparations for our chosen work, we, the Class of 1942, slacken our hurried pace to record briefly those things which have become high spots in our years on the hill.

Our Prom, of course, that night of soft lights and sweet music, inevitably tops our list, but let us not forget those hectic months in Crocker, or those first frightening weeks of teaching, when the innumerable responsibilities and problems of the teacher were vividly impressed upon us. Then, too, there is that glow of satisfaction which comes from the prominence of many of our classmates in the clubs and organizations of our school.

That firm foundation we worked so hard to build during our freshman and sophomore years has remained steadfast, and we are finishing our third year on the hill older and wiser and determined to make our senior year the best ever for all-round achievement and good fellowship.

SOPHOMORES

1. Sailor Sal. 2. Ready about. 3. You name it. 4. Study? 5. Heave-ho. 6. Cupid? 7. Knit one—drop two.

The Sophomores

We, the Class of 1943, have now climbed the second step of those four toward a successful and prosperous future.

Early in the year, we found that our senior sisters were no longer around to help us; we were "on our own." The realization that we were upper-classmen may have made us a little too sure of ourselves at first, but we soon had the "wind taken out of our sails."

As the year went on, we often became discouraged; at times chemistry seemed impossible, the plaids in our matching problems just would not match, our muscles seemed crippled forever after the modern dance class, or we could never seem to find time for everything. However, we found that our problems could be solved, and the satisfaction of their solution both rewarded us well for our work and helped to give us confidence in ourselves.

May Day was our big event, and through working together for it we learned how valuable co-operation is. We have also found the value of true friendships. In our freshman year we met many girls and tried to choose among them, but this year we have discovered how much our friends mean to us in everything we do.

We are now looking forward to taking our third step, when as practice teachers, we shall have our chance to continue the excellent work that has been done in past years and to show the world that Framingham girls will always rank among "the best ever."

FRESHMEN

1. Umbrellas in the sun. 2. Cute kids. 3. What's got your eye? 4. Must be Saturday A.M.
5. Nothing like a cheery song. 6. What's on now?

The Freshmen

In the fall of 1940, we, the Class of 1944, entered a new and strangely terrifying world. We successfully survived the rigors of Initiation Week with the help of our senior sisters. Those members who succeeded in making their presence known to the seniors by breaking the rules, soon wished they had kept to the "straight and narrow path." Freshman Court made us recalcitrant freshmen decide we weren't as "high and mighty" as we had thought.

Carrying on an idea of last year's class, in the early fall we held a Freshman Get-together Party. It served its purpose of acquainting the bewildered and timid "freshies" with their fellow classmates and with their senior sisters.

Class elections were held the first part of December, earlier than ever before. This quick organizing of the class proved a boon towards unifying work for the improvement of the class. This unification was demonstrated when the Class of '44 won the honor of having the best Christmas basket.

Now looking forward eagerly towards becoming sophomores, we shall carry our high standards onward, even after the attainment of our goal, that of being graduated from one of the finest colleges in the land.

THE STUDENT CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

The Student Co-operative Association, with its membership of the entire student body and its Council representatives, co-operates with the President, the Dean, and the faculty in promoting the highest standards for the college, and in directing the activities and matters of general student interest.

The standing committees of the Association are instrumental in the proper functioning of the organization. The name of each committee explains its particular function: the Class and Club Council; the Judiciary Board; the Commuters' Council; the Library Council and the Quiet and Order Committee.

This year, as usual, the Association has financed the publication of the "Freshman Handbook," and with the Senior Class, has helped to acclimate the freshmen.

Some of the outstanding activities sponsored or participated in by the Association for the year 1940-1941 have been:

October	Informal Dance
November	Hampton Singers New England Teacher Training Conference
December	Observation of Christmas by donation of trees, food, and money to Framingham Associated Charities
January	John Valentine, who has traveled around the globe on a song, guest speaker at assembly Vic Dance
March	Eastern State Conference for Professional Schools for Teachers, in New York City; four delegates from Framingham
April	Installation of Officers for Student Co-operative Association, 1941-1942

THE JUDICIARY BOARD

Miriam Walsh, '41, Chairman

Evelyn Sawutz, '41
Katherine Haggblom, '42

Teresa Caruso, '42
Esther Seisig, '43

The Judiciary Board is composed of the chairman, who is the first Vice-President of the Student Co-operative Association, another senior, two juniors, one sophomore, and a faculty advisor, Dr. Stuart B. Foster.

The function of the Judiciary Board is to consider matters of discipline which have been referred to it. It strives to meet these cases in a constructive way with the object of encouraging a better college spirit of self-discipline and a better sense of the value and necessity of good citizenship.

Seated—McGaw, M. Walsh, Pierce, Blood.

This committee consists of the chairman—who is the first Vice-President of the Student Co-operative Association, the faculty advisor, Miss Dorothy Larned, and all the vice-presidents of classes past and present. Each division in every class is also represented on an auxiliary committee.

The work of the Student Alumnae Building Fund Committee has continued steadily again this year. The purpose of the committee is to raise sufficient money to build a large student-alumnae house to be used for various meetings, offices, reunions, and social gatherings. This year a greater variety of articles than ever before was sold at the Mart,—including silver napkin rings, baby spoons, and salt spoon pins, souvenir Framingham plates, and interesting and colorful pottery, as well as the always popular candy, stationery, pencils, Christmas cards and wrappings, and ink bottle jams and jellies. This year quite a sum of money was realized from coco-cola. The sale of newspapers and the spring rummage sale also added considerably to the fund as they have in the past.

It is the earnest hope of the committee that the time when the corner stone for the new building to be laid is not far away.

Seated—Brigham, President O'Connor, Story, Dean Savage, Barrett.
 Second row—Blood, Carlson, Mothes, Moran, Babson, Spiers.
 Third row—Maxwell, Pierce, Good, Olson, Gleason.

CLASS AND CLUB COUNCIL

President	Betty Story, '41
Advisor	Miss Taylor
Honorary Advisor	Mr. Frederick Ried

This council is composed of the class and club presidents and the editors of the "Dial" and the "Gate Post" who work together with the guidance of Miss Taylor in trying to solve any problems which arise in the various organizations represented. The faculty advisors of all organizations join with this council in forming a committee to plan a well rounded activities program on campus.

This year the Board of Limitations has been reorganized through the Class and Club Council. The main function of this Board is to check on the number of activities any student is participating in. Checking keeps one girl from taking too many activities and also serves to stimulate in others an interest in taking a more active part in the college social life.

Mr. Ried has been a loyal member of the Class and Club Council ever since he first started its functioning. We appreciate all he has done for us during the many years he has been with us and we shall always strive to uphold the principles he has set up for us even though he can not be with us another year.

QUIET AND ORDER COMMITTEE

Helen Rush, '41, Chairman
Eleanor Cook, '42

Helen Bruen, '43
Constance Stockbridge, '44

The Quiet and Order Committee is composed of one member of each class.

With the help of the faculty and students, this committee is in charge of conduct in chapel, in assembly, and in the dining room.

The Quiet and Order Committee has instigated a new practice this year, that of having chimes played at chapel just before the piano prelude to signify that chapel has begun.

Seated—Russo, Dean Savage, Spiers, Mooney, O'Connell

Secretary	Celia Chace, '42
Treasurer	Ruth Neuhart, '42
Program Chairman	Louise Bacon, '42
Publicity Chairman	Edna Sweet, '41

In 1924 the Home Economics Club was organized at Framingham. In 1930 it was given the name of the Louise A. Nicholass Home Economics Club in tribute to Miss Nicholass, who for many years was the head of the Household Arts Department.

The purpose of the club is three-fold: to acquaint students of the Household Arts Department with people who are working in related fields by inviting them to speak; to have a center for related social activities in the school, an organization in which students can plan out programs related to their fields; to become acquainted with the work of the State and of the American Home Economics Association by representation at meetings and by reading the association publications.

The program for this year has included: a style show; a talk by Miss Alice McCool of Mt. Holyoke College on "Dormitory Furnishings and Decorations"; a lecture by Mr. Robert Collins of the Wellesley Blacksmith Shop, "Over the Seas with a Saucepan"; a lecture by Mrs. Henry O. Marcy on her trip to Kashmir, with an exhibition of her collection of fine fabrics; International Night Program; and Annual May Supper.

Vice-President	Betty Totilas, '41
Secretary	Kathleen Costello, '42
Treasurer	Florence Totilas, '42
Federation Delegate	Katherine Lynch, '42
Publicity Delegate	Virginia O'Connell, '43

The principal aims of the A'Kempis Club are, in the order of their importance, religious, cultural, and social.

The Club meets every other month to conduct club business, and hear from some person well-known in the field of Catholic action. Two Communion Breakfasts are held, one in the spring and one in the fall.

In 1940, Rt. Rev. Bishop Richard J. Cushing was the speaker at the fall Communion Breakfast, at which time he was made an honorary member of the Club.

Each year the Club sponsors a formal dance at some Boston hotel. It also sends a delegate to the convention of the Federation of College Catholic Clubs, a procedure which strengthens affiliation with this group.

Miss Joyce, club advisor, Father Dunford, former chaplain, and Father Day, the present chaplain, are a vital and helpful part of the club.

In 1940-1941 the Y. W. C. A. has carried on various activities. The club began in September with the annual poetry hour led by President O'Connor in his apartment. The one big social event of the year was the Hallowe'en Party with everything a Hallowe'en Party should have. At the invitation of the club several members of the Framingham Clergy, representing three faiths, led morning chapel services. Under Reverend Mr. Fisher of the Unitarian Church, Wednesday evening discussion groups have been held in Crocker Hall. Guest speakers for the meetings have been Mr. De Witt Baldwin, Miss Evangeline F. Wilcox, Miss Edith Lerrigo, Miss Louise Child, Mrs. Earl Huckle, and Miss Helen Tilden. Under supervision money was raised for the World Student Service Fund. The club has been well represented at Student Christian Meetings in Boston and other parts of New England, and hopes to have a delegate at the New England Summer Conference, Oatka, at Lake Sebago in Maine.

The Glee Club looks back once again with satisfaction on a very successful year. Even though the broadcast had to be forfeited this year, the Candle Light Service was enjoyed by all.

Two joint concerts were held with Worcester Polytechnical Institute. The one at Framingham was in March, and the other, at Worcester, was in May. The concerts were followed by refreshments and dancing, and a wonderful time was had by all.

The Glee Club was especially fortunate this year. In April, forty-five members took part in a week-end festival held at the University of New Hampshire in Durham, New Hampshire. A chorus of two hundred men and women from various colleges participated in the concert.

As usual, the Glee Club closed its activities for the year with the Pop Concert held at Symphony Hall in May.

The choir also looks back on a very successful year. Besides its weekly chapel program, the choir sang for the Framingham President's Ball, the Framingham Civic League, and the Marlboro-Framingham Club.

Activities

September 18	Welcome to Old and New Members. Entertainment by Workshop Players, Radio, Puppetry and Arts and Crafts Groups.
October 1	Mr. Murl Daniels spoke on Stage Make-up.
November 12	Business meeting to discuss Fine Arts Play.
November 15	Fine Arts Play—"Over the Rainbow."
January 7	Miss Mary Hutchings—"Three Centuries of Shakespeare."
March 4	Puppetry Show "Rumpelstiltskin" by Grade VI of Training School.
March 24	Assembly Program—two plays by Workshop Players.
April 29	Dedication of Green Room, and performance by Verse Choir.

This year marked the beginning of the Knitting Club and Entertainment Service Bureau of the Fine Arts Club. Both were very successful, and the Club hopes it will continue to be so in the years to follow.

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

President	Marion Blood, '41
Vice-President	Charlotte King, '42
Secretary	Irene Davis, '43
Treasurer	Cora Webb, '41

Faculty Advisor—Miss Taylor

The aim of the Athletic Association is to offer a sport for every girl and to have every girl in at least one sport. In accordance with this aim A. A. offers practically every sport except swimming, and we're still hoping. To mention a few of the sports, there are, of course, hockey, basketball, and softball. Volleyball, tenniquoit, and badminton come in for their share of attention, while the individual sports consist of hiking, archery, bowling, and riding. Various awards are earned by participation in these sports.

Besides its regular assembly program, A. A. sponsors an Outdoor Supper, Stunt Night, and Harvard-Yale Week-end.

HARVARD-YALE WEEK-END

1. Sweets for the sweet. 2. Why so worried? 3. Yea team. 4. Want some stilts, Rita? 5. The "Y" 's have "it." 6. Harvard's high Chair. 7. Thanks for everything.

TENNIS

By the aid of a sign-up sheet the tennis court was made available for the girls who were endeavoring to develop their game or to become real tennis stars by winning one of the tournaments.

BADMINTON

Badminton, one of the newer indoor sports, is gaining favor each year, as shown by the girls who participated in the singles and double tournaments during the winter months.

TENNISQUOIT

When the tennis court was covered with snow during the wintery months, many of the tennis enthusiasts took advantage of tenniquoit.

RIDING

Girls who show preference for riding found time to travel off campus to use the nearby stables.

HIKING

Hiking, an exercise used by many to see the beauties of the town of Framingham, furnished a refreshing way of earning those A. A. points.

BOWLING

In the Recreation Room of Dwight Hall anyone could see and hear girls using the cleverly arranged bowling alley at every available opportunity. Especially over the week-end, girls took advantage of the bowling alleys in South Framingham.

PING PONG

The extent of ping pong can be judged by the request to have the ping pong equipment available on Sundays and evenings. The tournament proved popular in the winter months.

HOCKEY

A favorite sport among our girls is field hockey. Almost any afternoon in the fall you can hear the tap-tapping of hockey sticks out on the field as girls are practicing.

BASEBALL

Hand-in-hand with spring comes baseball. Girls gather ball and bat, and an exciting game starts.

BASKETBALL

For those who enjoy a speedy game, there's your one chance for all to see what they can do.

VOLLEYBALL

Many are those who can hardly wait for the sports to start on the hill. Volleyball is a refreshing game after a hard day's work.

ARCHERY

Arch! Ready! Zing! There goes a bull's-eye! Many came out to try their luck. Did you?

MODERN DANCE

A large number of enthusiastic individuals enjoy modern dancing, as it teaches new technique and methods every year. It is a splendid way to get in needed exercise of those unused muscles.

HARVARD-YALE WEEK-END

That special Saturday in November finally put in its appearance—and so did Jack Frost—but what a morning for the hockey game that followed. Captain Blood and Maddie Ferris took the ball every time their team mates passed it to them and proceeded to hammer at the Yale goal, so keeping Marion Congdon on the jump. Marion worked heroically as goalie, but the Reds were victorious to the tune of 4-0.

On Saturday afternoon of the Harvard-Yale week-end, Framingham basketball enthusiasts were gathered in the gym with Harvard rooters on one side and Yale supporters on the other, to watch Harvard and Yale basketball teams in action, or was it "Yale versus Cerna Pierce," to quote Mr. Gilday.

In the first few minutes of play both Harvard and Yale appeared to be evenly matched, until the poor old bulldog began to wail when John Harvard (Pierce-Hildebrand) clipped his tail. Nevertheless, Captain Lambert with her guards, Land and McPherson, struggled hard to check the pace Harvard was running, but the towering Harvard forwards had the air above them. The blue forwards, Davis, Costello, and Totilas, did their best to score, but were hampered by the steady guards, Maxwell, Porter and Dacey.

Although Harvard held a substantial lead throughout, Yale did not give up until John Harvard acclaimed a victorious day when the crimson team held sway with

BIOGRAPHY

REMEMBER

September	13-14	The beginning of a new world for the Freshmen. The beginning of the last parade for the Seniors.
	19	Seniors "pour" for recruits of '44.
	23-27	Freshmen royally initiated. Imagine wearing mittens in September, and carrying umbrellas in the sun.
	30	Seniors donned academic garb, and formed a solemn procession into their chapel.
October	4	Cruise of the S.S. Student Co-operative—in Nevins Hall.
	14	Faculty and students frolic on coop day—Will you ever forget Mr. Sullivan's 7 league leaps in leap frog?
November	1	Doug Cameron and his orchestra swing at Dial Dance.
	3	A'Kempis Fall Breakfast—a big success at the Maridor.
	15	"Over the Rainbow"—Fine Arts Play. Marvelous. You did a grand job Miss Kingman.
	22-23	Harvard gains honor over Yale. Did you have any voice left by 8 o'clock that night? We didn't.
December	6	A'Kempis goes "formal" at Vendome. Didn't everyone look wonderful?
	18	Everybody helps Santa pack—but the Freshmen took the cake—some display was theirs.
	18	Candlelight Service. Inspiring.
	19	Seniors carolled—Starting with empty pockets, returning—cold, "stuffed" full of goodies—and so happy.
	20-Jan. 3	Yuletide.
January	20-24	Students enjoying "ask me another" contest—Mid-years. Curlers and make-up "at ease."
	31	Everybody dances for dear old "Gate Post." Was it cold that night—drifts everywhere—and snow men in Peirce Hall.
February	14	Fools at their best—Stunt Night. Congratulations to the Juniors. More power to our "smooth" Faculty.
	22	Birthington's Washday—to start our vacation.
March	14	Bring on those Tech men, they make the concert.
April	18-28	"Happy Days are here Again." Especially for the Glee Club as it tripped up to the University of New Hampshire.
May	2	Junior Promenade—Were the Juniors ever more lovely?
	5	Another tree for our orchard.
	12	For she's to be queen of the May. Queens come out of the past.
	16	We populate "Pops." Some Glee Club we have.
	19	Inauguration Day for Student Co-op. Success to you all.
	28	Senior Chapel Farewell—So soon.
June	6	Senior dance is on—Seniors so excited, so happy, so sad. Can it be true, our last dance as students?
	8	Baccalaureate Sunday—Our final chapel service.
	11	Our Senior Class Day—Impressive with the pageant, the daisy chain, the class song.
	12	We "Commence"—Ready to take our places in the world, mindful of what Framingham has given us.

MIXED MISSES

1. Senior salute. 2. Lil' lazin'. 3. Sisters. 4. 3 "Y"'s U R. 5. Jitter bugs. 6. Not all at once, please. 7. Victory smile. 8. Surprise. 9. Back in '38. 10. Worcester "gang." 11. Three little maids. 12. Terrific trio.

Class Will

The waves of classes entering Framingham State Teachers College and departing after four years, so brief lived they seem, leave like tide swells across the sand, an imprint faint but true. What we would leave of spirit, loyalty and ideals is little compared to what has been given each of us. To legalize our endowments, we, the Class of 1941, being of sound mind and in full possession of our faculties, do hereby in this our will and testament, made on this 31st day of January, 1941, bequeath our contributions to faculty and students as follows:

Item I

To President O'Connor, our gratitude for the spiritual guidance he has given us and for the opportunity provided by his chapel talks to share vicariously his interesting experiences.

Item II

To Miss Gardner, who is also saying her good-by to Framingham this June, a score of memories as pleasant as ours will be.

Item III

To Mr. Gilday (Class of 1941), deepest regrets that we must leave him behind, but the confidence that he will execute this commission to perpetuate the memory of our class by carrying on with his own particular brand of good music, good fun, good fellowship.

To Mr. Workman, a plea that his new jokes, if and when he chooses to use that new book, will cloak the same practical philosophies that have helped us approach our graduation with more confidence and assurance.

To Miss Taylor and Miss Kingman, the portrait "Hope." We do hope the Physical Ed. department will soon be granted that new gym.

To Dr. Foster, a Foods Demonstration Class that he can visit without infringing upon the time allotted for his lecture in senior "Nutrition."

To Miss Carter, a ramp enabling her to park her Austen within Dwight corridor beyond the reach of enveloping snow drifts—and we don't mean big drifts either.

Item IV

To the Freshman Class, we leave a sincere wish that you will witness the beginning of the construction of the new Student Alumnae House. With the help of such untiring workers as Miss Larned and Miss Cummings this should not be hard to realize.

To the Sophomores, we leave hope—hope for bigger and better Sophomore proms.

To any Junior class, diligently roving the fields in search of flowers for Class Day garlands, a glade of daisies. Emily Atkins suggests that you try the hill by the Academy of the Assumption in Wellesley.

Speaking to Juniors, you "embryonic seniors," we wish that the conscientious feeling of responsibility to freshmen displayed by Agnes Garoian, '41, might pervade your entire class. Remember that you play a major role in adjusting freshmen to this new venture.

To Crocker Hall and Miss Hall, Ruth McKechnie of the orchid-receiving "rep" must surely leave her example of a first-prize room on second floor front. If Crocker continues its embellishments, what with new curtains, new shrubbery and all, you H. A. girls are going to be pointing it out pridefully as the loveliest spot on campus.

Oh, yes, we must leave "Three Cheers" for the Mart, which like the proverbial bean stalk is steadily growing in prestige and popularity. That's just one more reason for the beaten path across the flag pole green. Lured by the Mart, the gay rose Students' Room, and the Recreational Room, H. A. girls are abandoning May Hall and Miss Leonard's lounge.

Item V

If we could leave behind an "Ideal Girl" from the Class of '41, she would be a composite, blessed with:

1. The carriage and posture of Anne Tower.
2. The grace of Irene Zurawynski.
3. The loveliness and wholesomeness of Charlotte Patten.
4. The voice of Mary Good.
5. The friendly, open smile of Betty Calkins.
6. The efficiency of Dorothy Aubertin.
7. The athletic ability of Marion Blood.
8. The school spirit of Betty Story.
9. The charm of Helen Maxwell.
10. The constant good scholarship rating of Lena Tela.
11. The exurbent spirits of Mary Mitchell.

In short, she would rate high on any "Dean's List," capture the crown at any May Day Festival, come through for her team at any Harvard-Yale game, impress the audience at any assembly, quell the ire of any amazed professor, and carry through any enterprise to the glory of F. S. T. C.

Item VI

Mary Good leaves her individuality of expression to Miss Neitzold—perhaps a bit to Miss Carter, too.

To Betty Addison, Alice Britt bequeaths her candyman's donations. (Then you'll never want for sweets, Betty.)

Carolyn Bradish leaves with Edna Bassett her merry laugh and her hearty appetite.

Barbara Worden cedes to Marion Knipp the duty of fetching Miss Sparrow's glass of water—handy bubbler in the corridor, Marion.

Miriam Walsh leaves her charm and power of leadership to her sister, Pat, who is already following close in Miriam's lead.

Another sister team is to be broken this year; Betty Totilas leaves to Florence her composure and academic success.

To Eleanor Wells, Estelle Kapstein bequeaths her nonchalance. Have you ever seen "Stemmie" really flustered?

Betty Mooney grants her skill with the needle to sophomores struggling with their matching problems. A bit of Betty's conscientiousness will also help avoid the last minute rush, girls.

Mary Curren, to all quick-tempered and easily ruffled students, will yield her unfailing good nature in all situations.

Among the tiny girls in the Class of '41 who have formulae of their own for hitting high standards:

"Maddie" Ferris would leave her happy-go-lucky air to Robille Parfait—but please, Robille, not her procrastination, for only "Maddie" could cram so successfully.

Barbara Lyman leaves the courage of her convictions and her unflinching determination to adhere to them to Virginia Rettalick.

Eva Fresia, who has successfully kept her figure in the right proportions to wear those size 14 dresses she has been making, will to Mary Leen her will power to resist sweets.

Little Irene Carboneau bequeaths her gentle nature and genuine courtesy to be used for polishing off upper classmen.

Shirley Fishman and Carolyn Anton joins together in leaving Phil Ellis their sincerity and conscientiousness.

Eleanor Parker leaves an autographed copy of her book, "From One Village Home to Another" to "Dot" English. Eleanor certainly took many trips.

Charlotte King will undoubtedly inherit Cora Webb's buoyant interest in the Athletic Association.

To any left handie who can write legibly in those right-handed chairs, Gertrude Spiers leaves her microscopic handwriting. "Trudy" doesn't look like a contortionist either.

Alice Havener and Maude Payne have always contended that "Haste makes waste," so they will grant some of their ease and composure to frantic sophomores to help them through May Day.

Anna Shaughnessy and Doris Glancey, both outstanding pianists in the class, leave their talents to Ruth Chaput and Phil Ellis.

Marion Brigham leaves her habitual, sartorial splendor to all dirty saddle shoe addicts.

Mary Sweeney should certainly find among the undergraduates someone to perpetuate her motto, "If you can't say something good about a person, don't say anything."

Joan Bridey, who thinks postscripts are fascinating, leaves her cleverness in adding them to other people's letters to "Dorm" students who find letter writing a problem. Joan could probably have commercialized her gift had she been in the dormitory.

Mary Keating and Joanna Hazlett leave to you Juniors, who wouldn't be wall-flowers, what it takes to stagger the stags—their ability to dance.

Dot Laboutely leaves to commuters who seek sustenance in the drugstore or in the lunchroom, recipes for unusually interesting sandwich fillings. We don't recommend them unless you are naturally inclined to slenderness.

Item VII

Claire Robinson leaves her lack of conceit—in spite of her perfect profile—to you exponents of the glamour girl technique. Take heed.

Speaking of glamour, we're sorry we can't persuade "Dot" Dacey and Audrey Coburn to part with the collection of fingernail polishes they have acquired during the last four years.

Clerna Pierce, basketball sharpshooter and organizer extraordinaire (as proved by her management of the "Dial" Staff) leaves a telephone connection direct to New Haven for the convenience of the next Yale Sponsor. And she our "Harvard" Captain!

Pauline Milne to Miss Larned's next French class leaves her astounding comprehension of "Cyrano de Bergerac."

Helen Rand finds that the "flivver," after four years of dubious service, will still pull up State Street hill in time for her breathless entrance at the ring of the 9:30 bell. She will not part with it, but to unfortunate commuters she bequeaths her good fortune in spotting wayside assistants.

Helen Melanson leaves her skill with the paint and brush, charcoal, or crayon to a clever sophomore in Miss Neitzold's art class.

Lillian Gendron, whose very trimness reflects her imperturbable nature, leaves to Dot English her flair for simple clothes and perfect grooming.

Charlotte Mothes leaves to Louise Russo her intriguing black eyes and amazing lashes. For those of us who were once astounded by Charlotte's coy wit, the nickname "Freslie" still sticks.

Helen Rush leaves her hospitality to the next tenant of Room 86 in Horace Mann Hall.

To those with ambition enough to acquire them, Barbara Hall leaves not only the sparkle in her eyes but also the sparkler on her finger. Which brings which, Barbara?

Mary Sullivan, along with Ruth Tronerud and Margaret Fitzpatrick, leave to all the underclassmen their happy temperaments.

To those who find it difficult to blush, Virginia Cotton leaves her ease in the art. Virginia claims it saves wear and tear on Woolworth products.

To some alert upperclassman, Helen Kennedy leaves her ability to spin alarming fables instantaneously.

Item VIII

To Odette LeMarbre, Evelyn Sawutz leaves her complete self possession.

There are among our classmates girls who never had to struggle to inhibit reactions to achieve poise. We are thinking specifically of:

Marjorie Babson, president of our class. Juniors, she has the qualities you will look for in your leader senior year.

Virginia Cook and Edna Sweet, Kay Nagle and "Bev" Shaffron, Vivian Hoagan and Betty Story, leave to those who would form new friendships to tide over and beyond the years on the hill, examples of duos that remain intact despite the obstacles of four years.

Hazel Williamson leaves to Anne Moynahan her knack for expressing in verse her lovely thoughts. We envy you, Hazel.

Mary O'Neill leaves her gleaming locks to any Elementary sophomore who wishes she had hair like that.

To Miss Carter, Betty Paul bequeaths her Paul's "Unabridged Dictionary." Quite a legacy for you, Miss Carter!

To Eunice Martin, Stella Smith bequeaths her crowning glory.

One of our problem children, Virginia Cook, leaves to breakfast-shy dorm students the figure that does not cast as shadow.

Anita Wilcox has enough graciousness of manner and intentness of purpose to leave a smattering to all underclassmen.

Edna Sweet and Muriel Darling leave behind them the thought they are both appropriately named.

Doris Luthringer leaves proof that one can still look "sweet sixteen" after four years at Framingham.

Jeannette Farr leaves to Grace Allen the task of defending the belief that girls raised on the farm have an advantage over city girls.

Alice Silcox leaves that precious fragile look to Emily LaFavre.

Louise Grey leaves the ability to "swing and sway" to Louise Richardson

Dorothy Olsen leaves the thrill of serving on all decorating committees to Emily Climo. May Emily's success equal Dot's.

Connie Brine leaves the "treasury" to anyone who possesses an adding and subtracting machine.

June Catler leaves her air of sophistication to Helen Bartley.

Myrtice Beecher leaves the remembrance of her car to those envious Crockerites.

Bernadine L'Esperance wills her ability to leave things behind to Connie Stockbridge. Never leave your glasses around, Connie!

Marion Cole leaves that lovely smile to Ruth Taft.

Margaret Berry leaves to Lennie Mahn the right to window shop at Jay's.

Gladys McCaw leaves her directions for arranging mock-man dances to save future chairmen from many grey hairs.

It seems that the Class of '41 has exhausted its list of donors. We don't want to go away, but we must—leaving wistful ghosts to haunt the corridors and classrooms we have learned to love so well. Who knows, the next "Dial" issue may pass on some of the very gifts we have just bequeathed. Well, so it goes; so also Framingham tradition carries on.

Witnessed this 31st day of January, one thousand, nine hundred and forty-one:

BETTY PAUL
LOUISE GREY

Six Framingham Graduates Selected among America's Best Dressed Women

By Miriam Walsh

New York, Jan. 11, 1951

A recent luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel brought forth America's ten best dressed women of '51. Among these were six Framingham graduates: the Misses Marion Brigham, Grace Flavin, Eva Fresia, Ruth Fahey, Lena Tela, and June Catler.

The new state supervisor of Vocational training is Miss Ruth Tronerud who keeps the student teacher guessing for short intervals of time to wonder why she chose the teaching profession.

A vacancy in the home economics department at Kalamazoo, Michigan, has been filled by Dorothy Aubertin, who brought her entire staff with her, Mary Curran, Anita Wilcox, and Margaret Fitzpatrick.

Miss Virginia Cook has been appointed supervisor of a western college. Her plans include a new course entitled "How to Make Clothes Fit Up and Down, as Well as Making Them Fit Around."

Mary O'Neil is now teaching Society's debs "Why Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

A certain New England college boasts a new music instructor, Miss Doris Glancy. Her success is due they have heard her say to teaching swing the Gilday way.

The head dietitian of the local city hospital, Miss Virginia Allen, has been chosen president of the American Dietetics Association.

Miss Doris Luthringer, is in the employ of the Bingfield Gas and Electric Co., demonstrating "The Technique of Putting the Puff in Puff Pastry."

The Educational Department at Teachers' College is occupied by Miss Maud Payne, who is advocating the universal use of the "Project Unit Method."

Miss Helen Kennedy's first grade pupils still bring her "An apple a day" to keep low marks away.

NEWS ITEM

Framingham delegates to the Student Government conference last week, found the most prominent speaker to be Miss Helen Maxwell, who is still thumbing the pages of Student Government manuals.

Advice to the Lovelorn

Dear Miss Britt,

I have been teaching since my graduation from College and I have decided that if I am to marry it's now or never. I have narrowed my choice down to a blond, a redhead and a brunette. Which will make the best husband? Please help me.

Gladys McGaw.

Ans.

Dear Gladys,

I really wouldn't know. It's all a gamble, so perhaps you had better toss a coin.

Where to Find

In answer to our many requests we are printing the whereabouts of the following:

Rosemary Hildebrande may be found running a date bureau; she is still in swing with just as many successful blinds as she had during her college days.

Jane McFarland is in far off China spreading fame as an English instructor for the Chinese.

Irene Carboneau is a professor of efficiency at Colombia. Her course is "How to Get Things Done Correctly and On Time."

Dot Dacey may be found in the interior decorating business specializing in murals for cellars and playrooms.

Marion Blood has become head of the Progressive Schools movement and is doing extensive work in conservative New England.

Barbara Stinson's name is now on the door of a large industrial building which manufactures those famous silver and copper pins.

Caroline Anton is editing the Globe's movie column, "Quick Glances into the Lives of the Stars."

Mary Keating and Joanna Hazlett are instructing promising young dancers in newer ballroom steps.

GATE POST

Forty-One in Review

Cambridge, Massachusetts
July, 1951

Dear Mary,

We must tell you about the last alumnae meeting you missed, the most thrilling meeting we have ever attended. You know Crocker is still having difficulties about its furnishings. Oh, no! the curtains were purchased long ago. This time, the girls in Crocker felt that with all modern equipment in the kitchen, they have a great deal of time on their hands. So the Crockerites have just finished negotiations for the adoption of a baby, and now need to equip and decorate a nursery. To raise the necessary funds, Crocker conducted a bazaar at the meeting. Here we purchased, for practically nothing, rolls of motion picture films taken "years ago" by the Misses Kingman and Hunt. What fun we had running them off!

Won't you and the other girls come over Friday, and we'll run them off for you. We're sure you'll get as much kick out of them as we did.

Affectionately,

Agnes Garoian
Helen Rush

"Well, I guess we're ready now. Lights out, and here goes.

"There is Dwight Hall. Those bewildered, immature looking girls must be my freshmen classmates. Older girls are greeting them and taking them to register—Senior sisters, no doubt. It was just before this we had our theater party and get-acquainted picnic, wasn't it? Goodness! what have we here? Visitors from the Far East? Oh, no; freshmen with "bath-towel" turbans for initiation. Notice now those lovely frocks at the Freshman Tea. This is the living room of Horace Mann Hall and our first chance to get acquainted.

"We wonder what those girls are looking at so attentively. Let's follow their eyes along the campus. It looks like man! Turn around, please, so we can get a look at you. Why, of course, it's Mr. Gilday, the only male member of the Freshman Class.

"Here is another group of girls chatting away; they did not know it at the time, but they were our potential freshman class officers: President, Marion Blood; vice-president, Muriel Wallace; secretary, Helen Maxwell; and treasurer, Betty Story.

"Now the scene shifts to winter with the girls rolling snow from the athletic field. It is Harvard-Yale week-end and the game must go on.

"The Assembly Hall at Stunt Night. Shall we ever forget that the Class of 1941 was awarded the banner that year! There is Esther Sullivan, playing the part of the unfortunate heroine in the melodrama; the arms waving about, the head tossing vehemently before the orchestra belong to Carol Anton, of course. Now comes the contribution of the faculty—"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Oh, if this film were only in technicolor and vitaphone!

"And now comes another year! This film must have been taken our sophomore year, for there is Mr. Sullivan, who replaced our beloved Dr. Meier. Those fallen trees show where the hurricane hit our beautiful campus and did so much damage. Remember when buses were at a standstill and commuting became a real problem?

"This must be outside Miss Brosnan's room. It is the plaid season; my, those H. A. girls are busy! Those were the days when our tears played hopscotch in the colored squares of fabric!

"What a glorious day this is for the film to pass over the campus to Chalmers' Theater. It is May Day. Our attractive May Queen, Charlotte Patten, is being crowned by Miriam Walsh. Among that group gathered on the hill are the class officers of Sophomore year: president, Miriam Walsh; vice-president, Marion Blood; secretary, Helen Maxwell; and treasurer, Betty Story.

"That pillared building in the center of this picture is Nevins Hall. The procession of guests, faculty, and students entering, took part in the celebration of the Centennial of the college.

"Lights, please, this roll sticks. Now—this renovated brick building is Crocker, ready to receive the Juniors. This is the year practice teaching begins, and suddenly girls find themselves "grown-up."

"Again we see the Assembly Hall. This time the beautiful Christmas baskets are on display. Our Junior 'Horn of Plenty' has won first prize by a wide margin.

"The occasion for this dancing of the lovely sophisticates before the garden scene is the Junior Prom. Remember the lockets? There is Betty Story, our president, leading the grand march with Clerna Pierce, Anne Tower, and Rosemary Hildebrand, our other officers, right in step. Wasn't that night a dream?

"Tempus Fugit"

"It is now Senior year, and we are the initiators for Freshman Week. That colossal, super-corsage on Betty Totilas was a gift from her freshman sister. There are the jurors marching down the aisle. The Freshman Court is now in session. Yes, Rosemary Hildebrand should really have studied law, she discharged her chief justice duties with such finesse. The victim on the high stool is our senior brother, who misrepresented himself to the freshmen. Rosemary certainly saw that justice was done.

"This looks like a scene from Dickens's "Christmas Carol," but it really is not. It is our senior caroling on the terrace of Horace Mann. Wasn't the party of hamburgers and frankforts at Crocker wonderful that night? Remember the next morning at 2:30 the innocent freshmen thought we were up early for our caroling. But it was only the earthquake!

"This must be our last Glee Club concert. The Glee Club sang more gloriously than ever a few weeks later at Pops Concert, their last group appearance.

"Here we are, capped and gowned, marching to our Baccalaureate exercises. See the class officers leading the group: president, Marjorie Babson; vice-president, Anne Tower; secretary, Dorothy Dacey; and treasurer, Constance Brine.

"And this is Commencement! See that tear rolling down Miriam's face? Guess we all felt the same.

"That's all, I'm afraid. Wouldn't it be nice if we could go back in person as easily? We had a wonderful class."

FAVORITES

Our composite '41 graduate has enjoyed the Advanced Foods class above others, and greatly prefers Harvard to other men's colleges. She likes "Gone With the Wind" both as a book and movie, but still her favorite author is A. J. Cronin, and her favorite movie actor and actress Spencer Tracy and Bette Davis, respectively. On the stage she wants to see Katherine Cornell and Maurice Evans.

Swimming seems to be her choice of sports, and Glen Miller's her choice of orchestras, but she inconsistently picks Fred Waring's for her best radio program. Sh-h—when she smokes it is Chesterfields, and when she buys a magazine it is apt to be Mademoiselle. She thinks the waltz is the most enjoyable dance, and at the moment "Frenesi" is her choice of songs.

She would like to own a Buick roadster, and of course with all her sisters, the Freshman is her favorite undergraduate. The greatest career? She still chooses marriage.

TO THE CLASS OF 1941
GREETINGS FROM THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

When you leave Framingham, continue your school ties by joining one of these fine Framingham Clubs: Arlington, Boston, Brockton, Cape Ann, Cape Cod, Connecticut, Dedham, Fall River, Fitchburg, Greenfield, Henry Whittemore, Lowell, Maine, Marlboro, Martha's Vineyard-Nantucket, Medfield, Merrimac Valley, New Bedford, New York, Newton-Needham, Northern California, North Shore, Old Colony, Philadelphia, Pittsfield, Quincy, Rhode Island, Southern California, Springfield, Twin State and Worcester.

That the fellowship of these clubs is appreciated is shown by the following excerpts from letters. A member of the Maine Club writes: "The Maine Club Meeting was just like getting home again."

From a member of the Rhode Island Club comes the following: "...we feel like one big family. We want any one living in our midst to join our family circle and find the welcome that awaits her."

Club members are interested not only in fellowship but in service. Club service has found expression in contributions to the:

Ellen Hyde Scholarship Fund
The Amelia Davis Fund for Incapacitated Teachers
The Dean's Fund
The Student-Alumnae Building Fund
Gifts to the College
Club Scholarships for Students
Civic Work by clubs in their respective communities

We urge you to become an active club member. If you are not reached by a Club Secretary, write to the Chairman of the Club Committee, State Teachers College, Framingham, Massachusetts.

Notify the Alumnae Secretary, Mrs. Abbie Bowlby McCartney, 731 Worcester Street, Wellesley, Massachusetts, of any change in your address.
